

Flowery Investigations

1. Attach each part of your flower to this page.

2. Invent a descriptive name for each of the parts and label them based on what it looks like or what you think the part does for the flower.
3. Re-investigate a whole flower and look for the parts you taped down. What is their location? How might that relate to their function?